

The presentation was awesome. I really got taught a lesson about how drugs can harm or even kill you. It was a very sad presentation though like when the parents got up there and speak about how they had lost their kids was very upsetting. I think the coolest thing was how we actually got to hear the 911 call and see an actual body bag. I really liked it. Overall it taught me a lesson NEVER do drugs cause one time could kill you.