My son recently saw your program. It left a great impact on him, and apparently, other students as well. Thank you for your efforts in getting this message out. For the parents, (especially the Moms who spoke), thank you. I get chills thinking of your heartache. Please continue doing what you are doing. I pray that God will comfort each of you for your loss and that He will give the energy to never tire of spreading the word. All you need to do is reach one child to be a success!
